Title: Study of the Piloting of the Curriculum globALE

Country: Asia Regional

Date of publication: 06.03.2023

1 Introduction

DVV International (DVV I) is the Institute for International Cooperation of the Deutscher Volkshochschul-Verband e.V. (DVV), the German Adult Education Association. DVV represents the interests of the approximately 900 adult education centres (Volkshochschulen) and their state associations, the largest further education providers in Germany. As the leading professional organisation in the field of adult education and development cooperation, DVV International has committed itself to supporting lifelong learning for more than 50 years. DVV International provides worldwide support for the establishment and development of sustainable structures for Youth and Adult Education.

The programme of DVV International is financed by Germany's Federal Ministry for Economic Cooperation and Development (BMZ). The current funding period is from 2021 to 2023.

DVV I evaluates its programmes regularly and seeks appropriate candidates to evaluate the piloting of its framework curricula in the Middle East, Central and Southeast Asia. Through these ToR, DVV I seeks bids for the study on the piloting of the Curriculum globALE. In separate ToRs, study experts/study teams for the piloting of the other framework curricula (Curriculum managerALE, Curriculum institutionALE) are being sought.

2 Background of the project

Curriculum globALE (CG) is a cross-cultural, output-orientated core curriculum for training adult educators worldwide. It was developed jointly by the German Institute for Adult Education, Leibniz-Center for Lifelong Learning (DIE) and DVV International and it is used by DVV I projects worldwide. In the current project phase 2021-23, DVV International pilots the CG in all its Asian regions with at least one country per region (Southeast Asia, Central Asia, Middle East). In the final project year, the piloting of the CG in Asia should now be evaluated.

3 Objective of the study

The piloting of the CG in three Asian regions mentioned above aims at professionalising adult education in the respective countries. With differing scopes, it has been piloted in Kyrgyzstan, Tajikistan, Uzbekistan, Palestine and Cambodia. After these pilot exercises, DVV I would now like to learn more about the actual effect this has had for partner organisations and the target groups of the trainings, the effectiveness of the approach chosen and further possibilities for the institutionalisation of the CG.

The purpose of the study is to critically assess how well DVV I is doing in strengthening adult educators and partner organisations using the CG and to make practical recommendations for the further work with the curriculum in the next project phase (2024-2026). The study should take all possible sources (secondary and primary sources) of information into account and triangulate the different information sources to achieve high quality and valid data. This data shall enable the study expert/study team to provide evidence-based conclusions and feasible and realistic recommendations.

4 Guiding questions of the study

The study should focus on three different areas:

1. Methodology

- How effective and efficient was the approach chosen to implement the CG in the respective countries?
- How was the CG adapted to the local context? Was the use of additional material useful and well chosen?

2. Outcome at the target group level

- What benefits do trainers who participated in CG courses see?

- How did the provision of CG for the trainers affect the quality of the courses? What are trained CG facilitators doing differently?
- What is the difference between a training facilitated by a CG trainer and one without?
- How can the CG help in the development of a community of adult educators and in the provision of support to this community?

3. Possibilities for institutionalization, sustainability, ownership

- What were the success factors for institutionalization in countries where the CG has been adopted by partners (especially in Central Asia)? How can institutionalisation of the CG be further strengthened (e.g. recognition of „adult educator“ as a formal profession, adoption into national qualification frameworks and RVA mechanisms)
- Based on existing feasibility studies, where is potential to institutionalise the CG further and what should the next steps in selected countries be?

5 Target group of the study results
